Mason, of Ohio; Cornelius Wendell, and others.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.

In the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia, to-day, Mr. Merriam, attorney for the defendants, in the case of the United States vs. Cornelius Greene and H. Tyler, the two men accused of having recovered confiscated property, and subsequently moved a motion to amend the writ of error by striking out the name of Chief Justice Chase, and substituting Carter. The court denied the motion and overruled the writ. The object of the writ was to carry the case from the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia to the Circuit Court of the United States, where it would be tried directly to the Supreme Court of the United States. It is probable, however, that they may be disposed of in another form before the trial comes on for trial in the circuit court, as recently the original owners who lost their property by participation in the rebellion, have entered into a settlement of their claims of damage. The cases of the rest of the rebels, who were tried on Monday, to-morrow day the court has decided extraordinary inter-venient.

FLORENCE, Nov. 1.—Evening.
